Until Again

My Brother, we shall keep a place for you where no one else can see.

You will rest with Angels now, and let your soul be free.

It broke our hearts to lose you but you will not be alone.

Mother wrapped her arms around you,
the day you entered Heavens home.

You left us peaceful memories.

Your love is still our guide.

And though we cannot see you.

You are always at our side.

Our family chain is broken and nothing seems the same,

But as God calls us one by one,

The chain will link again.
